

ICSP Cookie Policy

The General Data Protection Regulation (EU) 2016/679 requires this website to state the Cookie policy and the limited processing of your personal data in order to function.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small files that are placed on your computer when you visit a website. They are used typically to enable a tailored search experience.

What cookies does The ICSP use and why?

The ICSP uses the following cookies:

- 1) A temporary cookie to store the “session id” of your connection to the website.
- 2) A permanent cookie, “jbcokies”, displays information about the use of cookies and confirms that you have accepted storing cookies on your computer.

No other cookies will be used.
